Silencer Mouse Crack +

Product Features True 42-gram weight The Silencer boasts a 42 gram weight with a nice heft to it. This is the weight that a professional mouse would give you and with that heft comes durability. Laser Engine The Silencer was designed to incorporate a laser sensor which helps to improve the tracking and speed on the mouse. The laser sensor works by detecting light and translating it into commands the mouse can execute. 1,000Hz Polling Rate The polling rate is an advanced feature of the Silencer which allows for this mouse to track faster and more accurately than any other mouse on the market. The polling rate is 1,000 Hz which means the mouse will send commands to the mouse about every 1/1,000 of a second. Adjustable G-force The Silencer gives users the ability to adjust the amount of G-force to how they feel comfortable. G-force is the force exerted on a mouse by an object when it is dragged across a surface. Cross-hair The cross-hair can be adjusted to your liking. You can also turn the cross-hair on or off. Tilt Wheel The Silencer features a tilt wheel which allows for precision when used in games like Counter-Strike: Global Offensive and Overwatch. The tilt wheel also works well for those who enjoy the movement of playing other MMOs. Up to 16,000DPI The Silencer comes with a high resolution up to 16,000 DPI (pixels per inch). This is done through a laser sensor which will be able to achieve these high DPI capabilities. Sensor Placement The Silencer has an unconventional sensor placement which will allow for an unmatched tracking experience. The sensor is designed in the center of the mouse which allows for the best tracking capabilities, as well as good longevity. Four Buttons The Silencer features a good number of buttons, with the exception of the scroll wheel. The Silencer comes with a standard DPI button, two buttons on the left side of the mouse (A and B), and a DPI button on the right side of the mouse (Right click). Anti-Ghosting The anti-ghosting is an advanced feature of the Silencer. The anti-ghosting feature will allow the mouse to ignore double clicks, clicks that are simultaneous, or even multiple clicks. This is done through the laser sensor which will translate the clicks you make into a
